The screenshot shows a web-based interactive timeline for a user named 'Salva'. The timeline is set for August 2010, with the 10th highlighted. Several event cards are displayed as speech bubbles:

- WHAT IS THIS? (1st August 2010): An 'ABOUT' card with a thumbnail image and a 'More' button.
- FLASH OR JAVASCRIPT? (8th August 2010): A 'TECHNICAL' card with text: 'When you start out on a new software project, one of the first decisions you have to make is what technologies to use.' and a 'More' button.
- WE HAD AN IDEA (8th August 2010): An 'ABOUT' card with text: 'Wouldn't it be great, we thought, if there was some software available that was so easy to use that anyone could quickly create their own interactive...' and a 'More' button.

A 'NEW in 3D!' badge is visible in the top right corner of the timeline interface. The bottom of the interface shows a month navigation bar from August to January 2011.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Timeline JS website. At the top, there is a dark navigation bar with the following menu items: Projects, Class, Device Lab, Posts, Community, and About. The main content area features the word "Timeline" in a large, bold, italicized serif font, followed by a blue square icon containing the letters "JS". Below this, the tagline "Easy-to-make, beautiful timelines." is written in a smaller, orange sans-serif font. A prominent green button with the text "Make a Timeline" is centered below the tagline. At the bottom of the page, there is a horizontal row of four links: Overview, Examples, Make a Timeline, and Help.
